

Dear Family,

This week, your child has brought home an exciting Leveled Reader to share with you. Read the book together, read it aloud, or listen to your child read it to you. Read it once, twice, or three times!

Then, sign the enclosed certificate and send it back to me. Your child will not only have the experience of sharing their special book with you, they'll also receive a sticker when they bring the signed certificate back to school.

You and your child can keep the bookmark to use with the next story you read together.

Sincerely,

Your teacher
