

Name _____ Date _____

Problem

Suppose that the container shown on page 444 were filled with smaller containers that were all the same size. What could be the dimensions of the smaller containers if they fill the larger one with no space left over? How many of the smaller containers would there be?

