Letter to Family

Dear Family,

I'd like you to have your child bring to school a few old buttons that you don't need anymore. We will use these buttons in a math lesson. I'll create groups of buttons for the children to look at. I'll make statements about the buttons and ask the children if the statements are true or false. For example, I might say, "All of the buttons are red." Then the children will tell me if I have said something that is true or something that is false. I'll be focusing on the words some, every, many, none, and all as we do this activity. Later I'll have the children create their own statements about groups of buttons.

Your child needs to bring this to school by _____.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,
