

cross product

A product obtained by multiplying the second term of one ratio by the first term of another.

Example: If $\frac{a}{b} = \frac{c}{d}$, then $a \times d = c \times b$.