

gap

A large space between data when data is arranged in order as in a line plot.