

transformation

A transformation changes the position of a plane figure.
Some transformations are rotations, translations, and reflections.