

double line graph

A graph that is used to compare two or more sets of data over time.