

event

In probability, a result of an experiment that can be classified as certain, likely, equally likely, unlikely, or impossible.