

representative sample

---

A sample for which the results from the sample can be considered the same as the results from the entire population.