

Vocabulary

seasons Summer, fall, winter, and spring.

We have seasons because the hours of sun change all year. Some places have hot summers and cold winters. Other places have dry summers and wet winters. In the North, winter starts in December. Spring starts in March. Summer starts in June. Fall starts in September.

temperature How hot or cold something is.

Normal body temperature is 98.6°F. Water freezes at 32°F. It boils at 212°F.