

Finding Planets in the Night Sky

- Mark where to look for planets in tonight's sky.
- At night, go outside after dark with an adult. Face North. Hold this paper overhead.
- Look for bright objects in the sky in the places you marked on this map.
- Draw some of the stars that you see near the planets.
- Have your adult sign this homework sheet.
- Save this sheet. In a few months, look at the planets again. Compare where they are in the sky then, to where they are today.
