

Creating a Microorganism

Create a new microorganism. Think about where your microorganism lives, how it moves, and what it eats. Use materials you find at home to build your microorganism. Then draw it in the box below. Label its parts. If the microorganism is only one cell, label the nucleus and food vacuole.

Tell how your microorganism eats and moves.
