

Contents

My State Symbols	2
Organize Your Research	3
Plan a Trip to a Historical Society	4
Plan an Interview	5
UNIT 1: GEOGRAPHY
Geography Where You Live	6
Where Is My State?	7
What Is My State Like?	8
Why Are Certain Landforms in My State?	9
UNIT 2: GOVERNMENT
Government Where You Live	10
Executive Branch	11
Legislative Branch	12
Judicial Branch	13
UNIT 3: CULTURE
Culture Where You Live	14
People and Language	15
Traditions	16
Food and Recreation	17
UNIT 4: ECONOMY
The Economy Where You Live	18
Manufacturing	19
Mining	20
Agriculture	21
UNIT 5: HISTORY
History Where You Live	22
The First People	23
The First Settlers	24
Important Events	25
UNIT 6: GEOGRAPHY
Your State and the World	26
Imports	27
Origin of Imports	28
International Business in Your State	29
Answer Key	30

My State Handbook

Copyright © Houghton Mifflin Company. All rights reserved.

To the Teacher

For many teachers, social studies instruction is centered on the history, economics, geography, government, and cultures of their state. These teachers focus on the unique systems and relationships that exist within their state. Few materials are available to guide state instruction and research. Houghton Mifflin Social Studies provides teachers and students with state handbooks that make social studies education a success.

State Handbooks in Houghton Mifflin Social Studies

Houghton Mifflin Social Studies integrates state research throughout the components of the program.

Student Book and Teacher's Edition

- Unit Handbook These activity pages close each unit of the Student Edition with a research activity. These handbook pages guide student's research of an important state-centered topic.
- Teacher's Edition Comprehension questions and research strategies found in the Teacher's Edition support the learning on Unit Handbook.

Using My State Handbook

My State Handbook is an activity book that provides students with research instruction, tips, and guiding questions that direct the research of the state-based activities in the Student Edition. The handbook pages offer students direction and a work space where they can record the results of their research.