

nationalism

ration

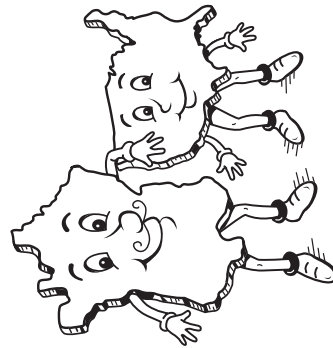

isthmus

trench warfare

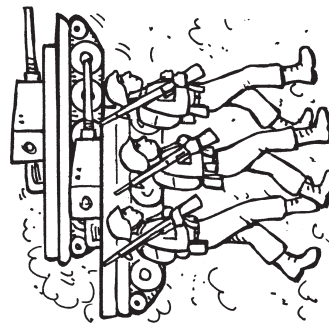

yellow journalism

alliance

imperialism

militarism

Noun
Devotion to one's country.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 2)

Noun
A narrow strip of land that links two larger pieces of land. It has water on both sides.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 1)

Noun
A kind of writing that exaggerates news to shock and attract readers.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 1)

Noun
The building of empires by adding colonies.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 1)

Noun
The limits on the amount of some goods civilians can have.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 3)

Noun
A way of fighting in which soldiers fought from long narrow ditches, or trenches.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 2)

Noun
An agreement nations make to support and defend each other.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 2)

Noun
The building of a strong military to frighten or defeat other countries.

(Chapter 7, Lesson 2)