Digit Challenge Game Boards

The image shows two identical vertical columns of six empty rectangular boxes each, intended for a digit challenge game. The boxes are arranged in a single column. The entire set of boxes is enclosed within a dashed-line border, indicating it is a template to be cut out. On the left side of the first board, there is a small icon of a pair of scissors. On the right side of the second board, there is a small black arrow pointing to the right, positioned at the bottom right corner of the second box from the top.
