The people on Maple Street had a picnic. They had 17 apples, 18 watermelon pieces, 20 cookies, and 13 sandwiches. Did they have more apples or more pieces of watermelon?

The story problem tells about a picnic. How would you solve it?

The question asks if there are more apples or more pieces of watermelon.

There are _____ watermelon pieces.

There are _____ apples.

_____ is greater than _____.

There are more pieces of watermelon.