When you make pairs with an odd number of objects you always have one left.

7 is an odd number.

When you make pairs with an odd number of objects you always have one left.