Pretend that a puppy chases a ball into the woods. The puppy gets lost. Write a story telling about what happens after the puppy gets lost.

Woof! I am a brown puppy named Scruffy. My owner is Tad. One morning Tad threw a ball, and it rolled into the woods. I raced after the ball and grabbed it in my mouth. Then I looked up. I asked, “Where am I?” Nobody heard me.

I was thinking about what to do. Then a big nut hit me on the nose. A squirrel sat on a tree branch above me. I asked the squirrel if he had seen a boy. He told me to ask the rabbits next door. So I ran to the rabbit hole by the next tree. I yelled down the hole. I told the rabbits that I wanted to find my
The rabbits told me to ask the great white owl.

I started to look for the owl. Then a red fox popped out of the bushes. The fox pointed to the top of an old tree. I saw a sleepy owl high up on a branch. I shouted to the owl, “Can you see a boy anywhere?” The owl just swooped down and picked me up. The owl flew me right to Tad. I was so happy!
