End Mark Dominoes

Objective
To recognize telling sentences, questions, commands, and exclamations and to match each one with the correct end mark

Players
4

You will need
Blackline Master II-57 and a pair of scissors

Before you play
• Duplicate and distribute Blackline Master II-57 and scissors to children.

How to play
1. Have children cut out the domino cards.
2. Each player chooses three dominoes and places them facedown in a pile. The rest of the dominoes are put facedown in a draw pile.
3. Player 1 chooses a domino from his or her pile and places it faceup on the table.
4. Player 2 chooses a domino from his or her pile and places it next to Player 1’s domino, providing the correct end mark for the sentence on Player 1’s domino. (For some sentences, both a period and an exclamation point are correct end marks.)
5. If Player 2 does not have the correct end mark on a domino, he or she draws a new domino from the pile, and the next player tries to add the correct punctuation.
6. When a player puts the correct end mark on a sentence, that player chooses a new domino from his or her pile for the next sentence.
7. Players take turns until one player uses all of his or her dominoes or until no more dominoes can be added.

Scoring
The winner is the player who uses all his or her dominoes first, or who holds the fewest dominoes when no more can be played.
