Before playing
• Each player creates a category chart like the one shown.
• Choose one person to be the timekeeper.

How to play
1. When the timekeeper says “Go,” each player has five minutes to fill in his or her chart with titles or proper nouns that fit each category.
2. When the timekeeper says “Stop,” players exchange charts and check to see if all titles and proper nouns are written correctly. If players are unsure about the correctness of an item, they may refer to pages 182 and 198 of their English book or consult the teacher.

Scoring
Players earn one point for each correctly written title, city, and country on the chart. The player with the most points wins.

Follow-Up Activity
Players can use the same game but create charts with new categories, such as Stories, TV Series, Abbreviations, States, Sports Teams, and People in History.
