Shaking is most violent at the epicenter of an earthquake, directly above the focus.
1b Seismic Waves

1. Shaking is most violent at the epicenter of an earthquake, directly above the focus.

2. Seismic waves spread out from the focus, decreasing in energy as they travel.