Sample Summary:
Aunt Flossie had many boxes full of hats. As the girls tried on hats, Aunt Flossie told them stories. The green hat smelled smoky and Aunt Flossie remembered the big fire in Baltimore. The blue hat with the red feather reminded Aunt Flossie of the big parade. Everyone was shouting because the Great War was over. The girls pretended to be in a parade. Aunt Flossie had a special Sunday hat. The hat was blown into the water and a brown dog got it for her. After the stories the whole family went out for crab cakes.
